Labels Present Columbus Regime "Mountebank"; Hamilton Optimistic

WILL SPEAK TONIGHT

Says From What He Knows His Ticket Will Sweep State

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O July 1 — A clarion call to cast aside the new deal and turn out a mountebank state administration resounded in the keynote speech of James G Stewart opening the Republican state platform convention here today

The Cincinnati councilman asserting that the country faced a great crisis said vote must choose whether America was to follow the road of European regimentation or stay on the broad highway of American liberty of individual opinion

Cheered by their national party chairman's prediction of victory in Ohio the Republicans came to town to hear the opening guns in the drive to return the pivotal state to the Republican columns

Hamilton Sees Ohio Victory

John D M Hamilton the vigorous red haired Kansan who held the reins and the whip in the pre-Cleveland presidential campaign of Gov Alf M Landon of Kansas stepped out of an airplane at Port Columbus late last night and granted the Democrats nothing

From what I know of Ohio he grinned Landon and Knox will win the state

Hamilton told newspapermen that he had received some really astounding reports from the north west sections of the United States indicating support for Gov Landon

He was asked if he opposed the federal child labor amendment

That's true he said All Kansas farmers oppose it. They feel that the state has all the laws necessary to control the situation

Stewart Hits at Farley

We Republicans of Ohio do not believe that the soul of America can be purchased by Jim Farley's pie made up of baloney apple sauce plums and dough, Keynoter Steward said

Turning to the state campaign the keynoter said a vast majority of the voters believe in common honesty and common decency and that the inevitable logic of that belief will be the triumphant election of John W Bricker as governor of Ohio along with the entire state ticket and the indignant repudiation of the greatest mountebank state administration that we have seen since Ohio was admitted to the union

"Every patriotic heart will rejoice when Martin L Davey ceases his cultivation of plum trees and goes back as a private citizen to his legitimate tree industry

Says Pledges Meaningless

Pledges of the Democratic platform he said mean nothing because the administration in power has demonstrated that platforms mean nothing to it

Their platform is not in the words adopted at Philadelphia but in the character the deeds and the activities of the triumvirate at Washington Roosevelt Farley and Tugwell

Those men give lip service to the idea of a balanced budget, but

BUSINESS HITS SIX-YEAR TOP

High Level for May Maintained During June, Bank Report Indicates

SUMMER SLUMP SLIGHT

Industrial Employment Also Shows Major Increase Over That of Last Year.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND July 1—During May most lines of business activity in the fourth federal reserve district reached the highest point in six years and held that level in the first three weeks of June the Federal Reserve bank of Cleveland said today in its monthly review

The summer seasonal decline said the bank's report has been confined to a few lines and generally was not so pronounced as in recent years

Reports from all industrial sections of this district are quite in accord on this point though the labor situation is disturbing in some cities

Industrial employment in May showed substantial increases over May of last year Dayton led with a gain of 21 6 per cent Cleveland was up 1 2 per cent Canton 14 per cent Massillon 12 3 per cent and Cincinnati 11 1 per cent

May department store sales in the district the bank said increased approximately 20 per cent over the same month a year ago For the first five months of the year the gain was more than 10 per cent

The contra seasonal increase in iron and steel mill operations was the most important development in industrial lines the bank reported Ingot production for the entire industry rose to 70 per cent of capacity fourth district centers sharing in the increase with the exception of Portsmouth where a strike is in progress

Crops have been very adversely affected by unfavorable weather this spring the review said

Dan Cupid Sets 7-Year Record in License Bureau

Dan Cupid's arrow rang the bell in even 60 times in Marion county in June piling up the best marriage record in any one month since June of 1929

Records in the office of the probate court show that 60 marriage licenses were issued last month the greatest number since June of 1929 when 76 couples took out licenses to wed In June of last year 51 licenses were taken out.

Meanwhile the number of divorces granted remained about average with eight couples having their marital ties severed in common pleas court. Twenty new divorce petitions were filed during the month and five cases were dismissed, Clerk of Courts Grigsby's records show

The record number of marriage licenses brought a fitting close to the big 612-page license book that was opened for business on Jan. 1, 1933 A new book of the same thickness was opened today and at noon was still awaiting the first application

Forecasts Conflict About Lehman's Effect on Party

Hamilton Predicts Roosevelt's Defeat While Farley Visions Victory in New York.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 1—Diametrically opposite predictions as to the result of November's balloting sprang today from Gov Herbert H Lehman's decision to heed President Roosevelt's urging and seek reelection in New York state

John D M Hamilton Republican national chairman declared President Roosevelt would be defeated no matter whom they get to run for governor in Republican states

Earlier Democratic Chairman James A Farley had said that the Roosevelt Lehman ticket would carry New York state by greater majorities this year than they did in 1932

Will Farley Resign

With the Lehman decision made after some weeks of speculation political guessing today centered on the question whether Chairman Farley is planning to resign soon as postmaster general No answer to the question would be forthcoming it appeared until tomorrow at the earliest when Farley is coming here from Atlantic City to confer with President Roosevelt The President who indicated that the question of the resignation would be discussed told reporters that until the talk was over there would be no official word as to whether Farley is quitting the cabinet to devote his full time to the Democratic chairmanship and to his post as New York state chairman of the party

As party leaders laid the ground work for the heated campaign just ahead a remark which Farley made at the recent Democratic national convention at Philadelphia drew an indignant statement from the American Liberty league

League Raps Farley

Accusing Farley of false and defamatory language the league quoted him as saying Behind the Republican ticket is the crew of the du Pont Liberty league and their allies which have so far financed every undercover agency that has disgraced American politics with their appeals to race prejudice religious intolerance and personalities so gross that they had to be repudiated by the Republican organization

Challenging Farley to produce concrete evidence to back his charge the league said it was a non partisan organization that it served the interests of no individual or group and that it would continue to condemn members of any party who seek to pervert the American constitutional system or to destroy or infringe upon the rights of the people as guaranteed in the Constitution

Gov Alf M Landon the Republican presidential nominee remained on vacation in Colorado although finding time to confer about the campaign Rep Ekwall Republican of Oregon told him yesterday that the Republicans have a mighty fine chance to capture the election this fall

Heading westward toward his Idaho home today was Sen Borah who still remained silent on his feelings with regard to the Landon candidacy

Board Considers Poll On School Consolidations

Would Be Means of Determining Sufficency of Remonstrances

Feasibility of taking a poll of the various rural school districts whose residents signed remonstrances against a program to consolidate rural school districts was discussed by the county board of education last night at its office on West Center street

No action was taken The board adjourned to meet again Friday night presumably to continue its consideration of the remonstrances in which hundreds of rural residents signed protests against the county board's consolidation movement

Russell Knepper Columbus attorney retained by the county board as legal counsel attended the meeting The board recently employed him in view of the fact that Prosecuting Attorney Paul D Michel can not give advice as prosecutor in questions where there is controversy between two political subdivisions

Although D T Mills county school superintendent would not comment on what the probable next step would be it is understood the county board will be required to pass in some way on the question whether signatures on the remonstrances represent 51 per cent of the electors of the territory affected by the consolidations If the signatures are found to represent a majority of electors living in the area involved in the consolidations the county board's program automatically will be revoked

It is understood that a poll of the affected territory is considered in view of the fact there is no election registration of residents of rural areas making it impossible to determine definitely the number of electors living in the various districts without an official poll

159 NEW CARS SOLD IN COUNTY IN JUNE

Bonus Payment Seen as Responsible for Boost in Sales Here

New automobile sales in Marion county last month totaled 159 an increase of 15 over the previous month and a jump of 55 over the June sales a year ago bills of sale filed in the office of Clerk of Courts Everett E Grigsby show

Twenty new trucks were sold in June six more than in May and double the number sold in June of last year Bills of sale for 1 037 used vehicles were filed last month as compared to 1 104 in May and 804 in June of 1935

Circulation of World war bonus money is given by automobile dealers as the reason for the increase in new car and new truck sales Bills of sale for 21 new cars were filed yesterday to close the month

EASTMAN EMPLOYES GET BONUS CHECKS

By The Associated Press

ROCHESTER N Y. July 1 — Wage dividend checks totaling $1 119,271 were distributed today to 17 499 employes of the Eastman Kodak Co

The payment was voted by the Eastman directors on the basis of last years dividends on the common stock, which totaled $5.50 a share The "bonus is customarily paid to employes when such dividends exceed $3.50 a share Today's payment was the 24th since the inauguration of the plan in 1912 and brings the total to more than $35,600,000.

STORM REVIVES CROPS IN OHIO

Temperature Drops as Gale Wreaks Damage to Shipping Other Property

WAVES SWAMP TOWBOAT

Utility Poles Blown Down and Buildings Unroofed in Southern Part of State

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI O July 1 — Garden crops corn and pastures showed vitality today in the wake of a lusty rain storms which caused some damage but brought general if temporary drouth relief to Ohio

Southern Ohio gripped all week by merciless heat saw temperatures drop precipitously 20 to 30 degrees as 30 to 40-mile an hour winds sank a towboat on the Ohio river blew down trees and damaged buildings at many points and spoiled a circus parade in Athens

Towboat Swamped

The towboat the Victor hauling four coal laden barges was swamped by five foot waves late yesterday near Sweetvior O a dozen miles upstream from Cincinnati The crew of eight including a woman cook reached shore in rowboats

A half inch rain followed the wind which wrecked electric lines and destroyed shade trees in Cincinnati

In Noble county the town of Caldwell reported thousands of dollars worth of damage from leveled corn fields uprooted trees and unroofed farm buildings

Near Piketon utility poles were blown down and a lumber mill and flour mill lost their roofs

Vary in Quantity

The rains striking first in northern Ohio ranged from 1 10 inches in Cleveland to light showers in Columbus

Ohio State university agriculture experts at Columbus said that in many instances the rains meant the differences between crop failures and near normal production

At all points temperatures declined Cincinnati gaining the comparative frigid 60's from a high of 98's Hamilton which got a sprinkle of rain reported much cooler weather while Middletown's maximum of 100 degrees Tuesday afternoon dropped sharply

Police Chief Stunned

At Washington C H a heavy electrical storm preceded the rain The only casualty reported was that of Police Chief Jack Wolfe stunned when lightning struck a telephone he was using

A sidelight in the drouth conditions broken by the rain was offered at Canton and Elyria where dairymen raised milk prices one cent a quart effective today on the plea of a feed shortage A similar increase had been made in Cleveland

Federal weather forecasters held out hope of renewed showers today

Service With A Smile As Girls "Man" Station

Girls were filling gasoline tanks pouring oil in automobiles polishing windshields and inviting customers to call again when Miss Barbara Bingham 25 and her girl assistants took over operation of an automobile service station at West Church street and Park boulevard this morning

Miss Pingham manager of the station immediately started to give the station a feminine touch by ordering flower boxes installed within the next few days

She and her assistants were on the job at 6 30 this morning The attendants are Miss Elizabeth Schmelzer 18 of 363 Girard avenue Miss Arial Butler 19 of 179 Glad street Miss Marie Pender 19 of 407 West Center street and Miss Ruth Born 21 of 699 North State street

Wearing smiles and uniforms of blue and white they tackled the job of servicing automobiles with a dexterity that won the praise of a man attendant from another station who has been "coaching" them on service station work.

While the girls sold gasoline and oil and polished windshields, Forrest Green, 21 of 170 Pennsylvania avenue, the only man employe of the station, looked after washing automobiles and greasing them This is the only part of service station work the girls will not handle

WOMAN KILLING STILL MYSTERY

Police Seek Ex Convict and "Honky-Tonk" Patron in Chicago Slaying

REWARD INQUIRIES CITED

Police Told Victim Asked Whether Fugitive's Capture Would Yield Money.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO July 1 Concentrating their search for two men an ex convict and a honky tonk patron the police admitted today that the slaying of Mrs Florence Thompson Castle 41 who was beaten to death with a brick in a hotel room Monday was as big a mystery as ever

The men sought were Edward Lynch alias Ernest Lavergne former inmate of the Colorado state prison and a man using the name of James Britt A James Britt who formerly conducted a fur business in Stevens Point Wis, recently disappeared from there

He Came to Chicago

The police said they learned that Lynch a fugitive on a robbery charge from Colorado had come to Chicago and Mrs Castle had made inquiries to determine whether a reward was posted for his capture

Investigators said Lynch's fingerprints did not correspond to those found in Mrs Castle's room

Britt was sought because he had recently entertained Mrs Castle at a north side tavern and dance hall where she once was employed as a hostess and entertainer

Jimmy Thompson seven year old son of the slain woman, told the police he saw a black man beat his mother to death as he Jimmie lay in bed beside her

Stop Questioning Boy

Police Capt William J O Brien, in charge of the investigation who yesterday intimated he believed Jimmie knew more about the affair than he had told said he did not intend to question the boy further until after Mrs Castle was buried in Hammond, Ind on Friday

The lad roused from bed late last night was closeted for a half

MAKE 12 1-2 PER CENT CUT

Mayor Smith Also Announces Offer To Finance Purchase at Low Interest

City council last night adopted an ordinance proposing a 12½ per cent cut in water rates for the next two years It also would increase from 300 to 400 cubic feet a month the amount of water consumers can use without exceeding the minimum bill

In the same meeting councilmen heard Mayor Frederic C Smith announce that a financial concern had proposed to him in the last few days to finance municipal purchase of the plant at an interest rate of three and one-half per cent a full one per cent less than the interest rate the last administration contracted to pay in its municipal purchase plan Mayor Smith and officials are looking into the possibilities of municipal purchase in view of this offer

In a conference in the mayor's office prior to the council meeting officials figured out the 12½ per cent rate cut and the increase in the amount of water allowed consumers who pay only the minimum bill would cut the Marion Water Co's annual gross revenue $28,000 or a fraction more than 15 per cent.

Council members and Mayor Smith said during the conference the 12½ per cent reduction of rates is not as much of a cut as they would like to get but explained they decided on it in the belief the city would have a reasonable chance of getting it

First To Be Hoped For

After council meeting Mayor Smith said "I feel the rate is not as low as it should be but that under the circumstances it is probably the best we can hope for"

City Solicitor Ralph F Carhart said the ordinance will lay here until it becomes effective 30 days from its time of adoption and then will be filed with the state utilities commission

During the conference with officials he explained the city by posting a schedule of rates with the commission before the present ones expire on July 31 would put the city on the defensive" if a rate fight develops before the state commission If the company does not approve the city's rate the company must assume the burden of proving the rate is unfair, the solicitor explained On the other hand if the city did not file a rate with the commission before the present one expired the company probably would file a rate proposal as high or higher than the present one and the burden of attacking the company's proposal would fall on the city, he said

Council members voted unanimously to adopt the 12½ per cent reduction Councilman William A Shuster was the only member absent.

Council's rate schedule sets up a minimum charge of $1.35 a month for which 400 cubic feet of water is allowed At present, the minimum is $1.50 a month and 300

NEW DRIVE LAUNCHED TO STABILIZE COAL

Commission Staff Heads Move for Law To Take Place of Former Guffey Act.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 1—An administration-sponsored drive toward new legislation to stabilize the soft coal industry was in prospect today with a skeletonized bituminous coal commission staff as the spearhead.

The commission began the new fiscal year with its personnel "cut to the bone" and specifically assigned to draft a substitute for the original Guffey coal control act, most of which was invalidated by the supreme court a few weeks ago.

Commissioner C. E. Smith said in addition to having a corps of lawyers at work on the proposed legislation, the commission would concentrate on exhaustive studies of some of the coal industry's most troublesome problems.

Adequate funds for the work are available, Smith said, $800,000 having been appropriated to the commission for the next 12 months.

Smith said the commission's legal staff would spend the rest of this year making an intensive study of "constitutional ways" to enact the necessary legislation.

Among the subjects to be studied, he said, are the need to control soft coal production, rehabilitation of "stranded" mine populations, mining and marketing efficiency and methods of increasing the use of bituminous coal.

Smith said a plan to send one or more commissioners to Europe to study coal production control methods still was in prospect. Several months ago the commission earmarked $12,500 for such a study.

LARUE MINISTER FILLS PULPIT HERE

"The Unpardonable Sin" was the topic of a sermon delivered by Rev. George Herd of LaRue last night at the Asbury M. E. church. The meetings which began Monday night are being well attended. "You're Bound To Make Mistakes, But Let Them Be New Ones—Not The Same Old Ones."
—Horace Greeley.

This saying comes from the noted philosopher who said, "Go west and grow up with the country." That advice contained in it the philosophy of healthy growth.

Many make mistakes concerning the care and preservation of their health—and the biggest mistake of all is to try to be one's own doctor. Profit by your own mistakes. Do not repeat them.

When you require advice concerning your health, consult a physician. He will prescribe properly for you.

Then make no mistake in selecting a druggist. Be sure that the man who makes up the prescription intended to restore you to health is a sound man—reliable and competent.

FEDERAL AID ASKED AT TEACHERS' PARLEY

Battle for School Freedom Coupled With Plea for 100 to 300 Million Dollars.

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Or., July 1—A militant note in the battle for academic freedom and a recommendation that the federal government aid education with an annual appropriation of from $100,000,000 to $300,000,000 came before the National Education association today.

Delegates to the 74th annual convention opened their second business session after hearing Dr. Robert Sproul, president of the University of California, an art a tally on "youth's appeal" by declaring the youth of America "are being mercilessly exploited by the social racketeers."

"The answer of America to our youth must be abundant life ordered liberty and the right to pursue happiness with some prospect of attaining it."

Reports of the committee on academic freedom and tenure urged "public support of teachers' in independent instruction and an investigation of all discharges in violation of the principle of unrestricted teaching."

The report of the legislative commission comprised support for the so-called Harrison-Fletcher bill calling for a federal contribution to education of $100,000,000 the first year and increasing $50,000,000 a year to $300,000,000.

WALLACE RAPS HIGHEST COURT

Denounces Tribunal for Upholding States' Rights at Any Cost to People

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK July 1 — The administration's sharpest critic of the supreme court in a book published today groups that body with the Republican party and the Liberty League as upholders— at least part of the time —of the doctrine of states rights at any cost

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A Wallace in a book called Whose Constitution? likewise calls for establishment of a cooperative commonwealth— a cooperative society

Labels AAA Case a Steal

It was Wallace who publicly asserted some months ago that the courts return to processors of taxes collected under the defunct AAA permitted a legalized steal

Balancing a major part of the book's philosophy on the thesis that this was intended to be a union of people instead of states the secretary asserted

"The doctrine of states rights now invoked by the supreme court was a barrier to progress even in 1787 and was the cause of terrible conflict in 1861 Today the states mark no economic boundaries that make sense

He went on

Only the large corporations, whose Republican party, the Liberty League and most of the newspapers of the country are subsidiary, find states rights today, at any cost

Cites Disagreement

To these sections it does not groups however must be added one other body at least part of the time The supreme court has disagreed in a number of cases with the position taken by the administration on the question of federal powers

In the case of AAA it held that the commerce clause of the constitution did not give the federal government the power it had assumed to set up rule of agriculture In the case of AAA it held that agriculture was a local matter that its regulation also exceeded federal powers

In the interests of the general welfare is a power not granted to the federal government

Says Some Would Storm

I do not doubt that through the multiplicity of legal precedents available to the supreme court it is possible to take a narrow view of the Constitution which virtually limits the scope of granted federal powers to those which would have seemed useful under the conditions of 1787

Were agriculture truly a local matter in 1936 as the supreme court says it is half of the people of the United States would quickly starve

Saying the people must become actively imbued with the idea of a cooperative society Wallace added as he said the majority already was receptive to the general purposes and possibilities of a cooperative commonwealth

MAKE FINAL PLANS FOR PROSPECT MEET

Track and Field Events To Serve as Dedication of Athletic Grounds

Final preparations were under way today for dedication of the newly constructed athletic field at Prospect July 4 A track meet open to any visitor who wishes to participate will be staged at 10 o'clock that morning Mayor Lee Prather and Prospect officials will serve a basket lunch at noon and late in the afternoon a ball game between two unannounced teams will be played

Nursery To Be Opened As WPA Project Here

One of the most [illegible] of the WPA recreational program [illegible] grant to the [illegible] for the day nursery [illegible] at 162 [illegible] street for children [illegible] and employed [illegible]

Arrangements for the project were completed [illegible] when boys from the playground group under the direction of Martin Verburg city supervisor of the Marion county WPA recreational project began the work of making table and benches for use in the nursery

A large sandbox at the rear of the nursery has been selected for the nursery which will open Monday morning with Mrs Delpha Riffee who served as dietitian at the nursery school at the Glenwood school building last year in charge

Eighteen children are enrolled in the nursery to date Mrs Riffee said today It is planned to care for all children between the ages of 2 and 6 years during the hours their mothers are at the center

The nursery will be a boon to mothers in the center who for the most part must allow their children to shift for themselves throughout the day or hire some one to care for them Mrs Jennie Crane sewing center supervisor said today In a few instances the mothers have relatives with whom they may leave their children but for the most part the children are left alone she explained In one home two boys six and seven years old are left alone all day while in another family where there are four small children the management of the home for the day depends on the older one she pointed out In addition to keeping the children occupied it will take a great load off the minds of the mothers who naturally worry about them during the day

There will be supervised play and even the smallest ones will be provided with some form of creative recreational instruction Mrs Riffee plans The older girls will be taught simple lessons in sewing and there will be constructive work arranged for the small boys

A problem confronting the nursery supervisor at present is the provision of games and books for the entertainment of the children Anyone having toys or games not in use is asked to get in touch with Mrs Riffee or Mr Verburg and arrangements will be made to collect them Another [illegible] operates much [illegible] good reading [illegible] see [illegible] a bulletin [illegible] a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

ATTEMPT TO ATTACH BONUS MONEY FAILS

Lima Firm Barred from Obtaining Funds of Kenton World War Veteran

Special to The Star

KENTON O July 1—The first attempt to attach the bonus money of a World war veteran failed today when Justice of Peace Tom Cooper dismissed an attachment filed by S C Blattner & Son of Lima seeking to obtain possession of the bank account of Harry James Kenton ex service man

Prosecuting Attorney Arthur D Tudor who volunteered his services to James a fellow legionnaire contended that the Lima down payment and the rest on easy terms firm had no authority for the action as money received from sale of bonus bonds was exempt He presented evidence to show that James received $750 in bonus which he cashed spent a part of the money for a home and settled a few odd bills before placing the balance in a local bank in his wifes name It was the balance that Blattners sought to attach

COUNCIL ADOPTS NEW WATER ORDINANCE

feet of water is allowed Price is said

Proposed Schedule

The rates as set by the council for domestic users and the amount of reduction in each bracket follow First 400 cubic feet a month 22 cents a hundred cubic feet a reduction of 11½ cents a hundred next 600 cubic feet 20 cents a reduction of 15 cents a next 4000 cubic feet 17 cents a reduction of 13 cents next 15000 cubic feet 24 cents a reduction of 11 cents next 15 000 cubic feet 21 cents a reduction of nine cents next 20000 cubic feet 18 cents a reduction of seven cents all over 50000 cubic feet 16 cents a reduction of four cents

Councils rates for commercial and industrial consumers and the amount of reduction as compared with the present rates follow first 1000 cubic feet per month 75½ cents a hundred a reduction of 10½ cents next 4000 cubic feet 2 cents a reduction of five cents next 10000 cubic feet 30½ cents a reduction of four and one half cents next 15000 cubic feet 24 cents a reduction of three and one half cents next 50000 cubic feet 19½ cents a reduction of two and three quarter cents all over 50000 cubic feet 17 cents a reduction of two cents

Councils rate for schools and churches is 27 cents a hundred cubic feet a reduction of three cents

Minimum bills which vary according to the size of service pipes through which water is taken were reduced by council as follows three quarter inch pipe the size used by virtually all domestic consumers) $1 75 a month a reduction of 15 cents one inch pipe $1 75 a month a reduction of 2 cents one and one-quarter inch pipe $3 50 a month a reduction of 50 cents one and one half inch pipe $5 25 a reduction of 75 cents two inch pipe $7 a reduction of $1 three inch pipe $13 a reduction of $2 four inch pipe $26 a reduction of $4 six inch pipe $52 a reduction of $8 eight inch pipe $85 a reduction of $15

Hydrant Charges

Fire hydrant rentals which formerly were $3 35 a month for private users and $41 a year for the city were cut to $3 a month for all users making the citys annual rental for each hydrant $36 or $5 less than the present rental

Corresponding reductions were made for standpipe sprinkler systems and sewer flushing

The maximum hardness of city water was left unchanged at 12 grains a gallon

In the conference preceding the meeting several councilmen suggested more drastic reductions but after a two hour discussion all agreed that a reasonable reduction should be sought and a determined effort made to have it adopted by the company rather than ask for a more drastic reduction with the thought in mind of compromising late in a rate fight or in negotiations with the company

Mayor Smith mentioned the offer of a financial firm to finance municipal purchase of the Marion plant at an interest rate of three and one half per cent in a message he read to council at the close of the meeting

Mayors Message

His message follows

It is only after the most careful consideration that City officials have arrived at the reduction in water rates as passed by city council this evening There can be little question that Marion has been due for a water rate reduction for a long time The rates set in 1925 were obviously entirely too high This is proven by the fact that as a result of that increase the water company lost nearly all of its sales to industrial users Their revenue fell off from this source to the amount of $35 000

For the standpoint of good business for the company itself there is a substantial reduction in rates should seem advisable Certainly it is to the interest of the company itself to set a rate now which will tend to stop the further drilling of wells and the inevitable consequent loss of more revenue

Moreover since the franchise and rate was written with the water company industrial and economic conditions have changed very materially Money rates are today extraordinarily low in comparison with those of 1925 Six per cent was the prevailing rate of interest in 1925 But what is it today? The public may judge when I inform them that within the last week a certain financial firm has offered to finance the purchase of the old water plant should we purchase it at three and a half per cent interest or possibly even less

The Marion Water Co cannot hope to earn as much today as it did when money was worth six per cent There is no good reason why it should not take its loss along with the rest of us

The fact is with the reduction we have made the water company will still be earning three and a half per cent on a substantial valuation What other industrial firm in Marion has gone through this depression six years of it earning six or more per cent on its investment as has the water company? Very few if any And how many of them now are earning three and a half per cent on their replacement value including all those values which go to make up their entire business? I doubt if any of them are

The Marion Water Co should be very glad to accept this reduction It is not excessive It is in reality something more than fair to them

At any rate this administration is ready and determined to do everything within its power to obtain lower water rates

Council adopted a separate resolution repealing a section of the 25-year franchise the city gave the water company in 1926 The section repealed last night provided that the minimum bill for water service throughout the life of the franchise should be not less than $18 a year the present minimum charge

Councils only other action last night was appropriation of $10 to pay Mrs A R Dayton of 195 East Center street for practical nursing service in care of a relief family in which all members of the family were ill at one time

The Republicans pledge themselves to stop the folly of uncontrolled expenditure and thereby to balance the budget, he said.

Budget balancing will become possible when, at only when, Mr. Roosevelt is out of the White House.

"The man who loosed the flood gates of uncontrolled expenditure, who created this all-consuming bureaucracy, who built up these immense vested interests in government spending, even if he will it—and he won't—can never arrest the torrent that is sweeping the nation headlong to inflation, bankruptcy and ruin.

HILL REPORTS ON CONVENTION

Retiring President Tells Rotarians of International Meeting of Club.

A report of the annual convention of Rotary International, held last week at Atlantic City, was given by Gene Hill yesterday at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Marion Rotary club at Hotel Harding.

Mr. Hill is retiring president of the local club and was the delegate to the convention. He was presented the past president's badge by J. E. Frew, also a past president. W. D. Brown will head the club for the next year.

Mr. Hill told club members of the program presented at the convention and of the various delegations, dwelling especially on those from foreign lands. Between 10,000 and 11,000 Rotarians attended the conclave, the second largest gathering of the organization in its history. This number represented 82 countries and their territories. Two hundred were there from England, he said. Mr. Hill said he learned that many foreign Rotarians are those high in government and business circles in their countries.

Mr. Hill reported on the discussion at the convention of the proposed universal language, Esperanto. A move has been under way to obtain Rotary's official indorsement of the language, and while this was not given the convention showed an interest in it and it is believed Rotary will take steps to further the usage of the language, Mr. Hill said.

The convention closed with an ice carnival, which Mr. Hill attended. The new president of Rotary International is William Mannier of Nashville, Tenn.

L. C. Hutchinson was a guest at yesterday's luncheon.

The roster of the Caterpillar club, the organization of aviators whose lives have been saved by emergency parachute jumps, includes the names of 762 men and nine women.

The Modern Way

Development of radio as a political instrument reached a climax last Saturday night, with millions of citizens in all parts of the country listening simultaneously to President Roosevelt's speech of acceptance at Philadelphia. Previously, the climax had been approached by radio transmission of the events of the two major national conventions.

Importance of this modern advantage of auditory contact with political leadership is made plain by comparison with presidential campaigns as recent as those of 1920 and 1924. In the latter year, radio was just beginning to be a factor in communication. In 1920 it still was in the experimental stage.

The day when political oratory's full effect was limited to the range of the orator's voice in an auditorium or an open air meeting is past. Developments of the use of radio has been so rapid in the last 15 years that at the moment it is difficult to see any possibilities which have been overlooked. Certainly, aside from compulsory listening the United States is at least as radio conscious in a political sense as the most advanced of the European countries. It is questionable whether dictators are able to do more with state control of radio and regimentation of listeners than has been done in this country on a voluntary basis.

Politicians have had visions of a day when the ear of every voter on any subject would be accessible to his voice—dreams of a time when there could be transmitted instantaneously to every corner of the nation an idea or a denial. For better or worse, the privilege has been granted to use or abuse as political leaders see fit to employ it. Thanks to the foresight of radio engineers who have made it possible to turn off a radio just a little quicker than it can be tuned in the listener still has the upper hand.

Watchdog.

Relatively few Americans have heard of John R. McCarl former comptroller general of the United States. Although both the man and the office have been important in Washington for 15 years neither had received any attention until the last few years when disputes over expenditures brought Mr. McCarl into the critical range of the Roosevelt administration.

It is of interest that Mr. McCarl's maximum term expired June 30. The office of comptroller general was created in 1921 with him as its first occupant. Regulations making 15 years the maximum length of service force his retirement at this time.

For a decade and a half he has had charge of federal accounting. More than anyone else to whom the term has been applied, Mr. McCarl has been the watchdog of the treasury that is the function of his office. It is generally conceded that both the job and the man have been tremendously helpful to the development of a more orderly federal accounting system.

For obvious reasons the public has a right to expect that in obtaining a successor to Mr. McCarl the Roosevelt administration will make its selection from the best possible available candidates. The comptroller generalship is as important as it is made to be by the occupant of the office. It is not a partisan job, the purpose of the act which created it was to make the comptroller general independent of both the legislative and administrative branches of the government.

Post-Impressions

The most frequently recorded impression of the Democratic national convention was one of complete control by the new deal administration which delegates were upholding. The cheers and handclapping observers pointed out, lacked something in spontaneous enthusiasm.

More than 60 per cent of the delegates either were jobholders or members of the new deal's political organization. They owed allegiance to Postmaster General Farley, and they paid it in full with noise, with votes and with their presence. The candidates and the platform were in the bag before the rank and file members arrived in Philadelphia but they went through the motions of a deliberative party assembly for five days.

It is obvious—and new dealers seem proud of it—that many Democrats cannot conscientiously go along with the Roosevelt administration's drive for reelection. A few of them, notably Alfred E. Smith, have signified their alienation. There will be more public desertions before next November. In a literal sense the new deal is a third party—the New Deal Democrats. The old line Democratic party has become a weak minority.

It remains to be seen what will be the ultimate effect of President Roosevelt's bolt party leadership. At the outset there is a suggestion of disunity under the surface. The question is whether it will tend to increase or decrease as the campaign progresses. Success at the polls next November would establish the New Deal Democrats on a permanent basis. Failure on the other hand would seem to create circumstances of disintegration that would wreck the Roosevelt wing of the Democratic party and bequeath to the dissatisfied moderate Democrats of 1938 a long uphill task of rebuilding.

Without Interference.

John L. Lewis champion of industrial unionism is trying to bring about a closed shop in the steel industry. He has made his ability to do this a test of his right to displace William Green American Federation of Labor president as organized labor's No. 1 leader. Mr. Green charges Mr. Lewis has fallen down on the job of taking full advantage of the opportunity for unionization of all labor offered by the Roosevelt administration.

In the drive to organize the steel industry the Committee for Industrial Organization, dissident offshoot of the A. F. of L. has set aside funds and placed organizers in the field to solicit members for a so called vertical union open to all steel employes.

It is therefore only proper that steel management's position should be as plain as the position of John L. Lewis and other advocates of industrial unionism and the closed shop in the steel industry. A public announcement by the Iron and Steel Institute contains the following declaration:

The steel industry will oppose any attempt to compel its employes to join a union or to pay tribute for the right to work. No employe in the steel industry has to join any organization to get or to hold a job. The steel industry will use its resources to the best of its ability to protect its employes and their families from intimidation coercion and violence and to aid them in maintaining collective bargaining free from interference from any source.

The vital point of the issue is interference. Spokesmen for organized labor say they want to prevent interference from employers. Spokesmen for employers retort they will not stand for interference from professional labor organizers. The average employe of the steel industry, or any other industry probably would say if he had a spokesman all of his own: Give me freedom from interference of all kinds—freedom to belong to a union or not to belong as I may choose. After all the cherished right to belong to a labor union has no standing unless it is accompanied by the right not to belong.

Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Thursday July 1 1926.

Groups of business men and political leaders united in launching a campaign for repeal of the primary election law in Ohio and pledging support to a proposal which embodied features of the primary system and old convention plan of nominating candidates.

Records of the probate court showed that 40 marriage licenses had been issued in June breaking the record of 39 which had been standing for the preceding two years.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Keller of Croton avenue.

Mrs. Nancy Herrington 79 died at the home of her daughter Mrs. C. B. McGuire on South Grand avenue.

John McNeal in charge of the Marion warehouse of the American Railway Express Co. reported that in June 450 cars of perishable goods were supplied with ice here. This was an increase of 75 cars over May and it was expected that all records would be broken during July and August.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday July 1 1916.

Great Britain's long awaited offensive was launched against the Germans in France. The front extended over about 20 miles south of the Somme. The opening assault was preceded by a terrific bombardment lasting about an hour and a half. It came simultaneously with the drive of Russia's great army in the eastern theater and with Italy pouring its men forward against the Austrians.

The military committee of the Chamber of Commerce met and made arrangements for a demonstration honoring D company on its departure for Columbus the following Sunday to be mustered into federal service.

Miss Helen Lucile Bain and Carl W. Leffler were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bain on East Center street by Dr. Jesse Swank pastor of Epworth M. E. church.

The Marion Erie baseball team was defeated at Lincoln park by the Erie nine of Huntington Ind. 9-7. Rosette pitched for Marion.

Gandhi Chose Wrong Way To Rebel

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

PARIS July 1. Poor Mahatma Gandhi who thought India could be saved by going back to the hand loom and making cloth by hand to outcompete British industry is a sadder man in the house of his friends.

Mr. Hirendra Nath Mukerji says Gandhi and he had a long talk with Jawaharlal Pandhi Jawaharlal being

To compete with and annoy England let India install better machinery than England's and produce cheaper cotton cloth with cheaper labor than Japan can show him how.

Working by hand will not worry the British empire.

For advertising reasons a group of men made a long distance hike on a diet of broken rice to prove the superiority of that diet. They were surprised when fifty three hikers showed a total loss of 211 pounds in weight at the end of seven days' walk.

It turned out that he who gained ate his cracked wheat and in addition ate the regular meals a day. One hiker ate 21 pounds of rice and came in by arriving ahead of them all in fine condition. It turned out that he started early, and stayed out after thumbing a ride.

Soldiers of an ancient Rome made long marches chewing raw wheat as they went their stolid dull eyes show perfect teeth ground down. But they ate meat when they could get it.

The Japanese were proved that men on long marches must have more substantial food than grain.

Japan's soldiers abandoned their rice and ate beef from Chicago, marched and fought better.

With no idea of offending brown eyed people it was mentioned here that the great men in history usually have blue or gray eyes whether you take Alexander at the battle of Arbela Marshal Foch leading the allies with the blue eyed Lloyd George and Clemenceau directing him. The same peculiarity applies to Washington Lincoln Jefferson Edison.

Some readers not blue eyed objected to the statement which was only a statement of fact and should not offend them especially as those with brown and black eyes usually have deeper emotions and emotion is more fun more intellect.

Now curiously it develops that airplists in the army are 90 per cent blue eyed. Vincent Astor's paper says so. How do you account for that? Eagles have gray eyes usually.

To raise children requires patience. Emilie one of the little quintuplets decided to resist oppression and got out of her little bed seventy one times in one night.

Seventy one times the nurse picked her up quietly without rebuke or punishment put her back in bed. After the seventy first time she went to sleep. The second night she got up only sixty five times to be put back into bed kindly each time. Soon she decided for herself that getting out of bed was in some mysterious way a failure she doesn't do it any more.

Dr. Dafoe the intelligent supervisor of the children to whom they owe their lives remarked that fifty years ago the little girl would have been whipped frightened and bewildered.

In addition she would have had her courage which is the human mainspring broken and that mainspring is the one thing that makes life worth while.

To last words of dying men will be added those of the late King George of England—I am sorry to keep you waiting like this. Typical of a good modest king always obedient to duty.

At the request of his ministers including Sir John Simon who willed upon him at the last moment the king struggled pathetically to sign his name to a state paper succeeded then turning to his advisers spoke those last words followed by a smile and nod with which he was accustomed to end an audience.

This was published in The Star of Johannesburg South Africa in a Reuter dispatch. Mr. Gunn sends the clipping from Gibsonia Pa. Much obliged.

The Italian soldier Badoglio in the striking uniform of an Italian marshal returned to Rome and embraced Mussolini who wore the uniform of a corporal of Fascist militia. Napoleon also liked to be called the little corporal.

Marshal Badoglio is an Italian soldier who obeys orders. When Mussolini's forces were marching on Rome Badoglio according to the story sold to the king: What shall I do—wipe them out? The king ordered: No no violence. Now Mussolini rules and on his order Badoglio wipes out Haile Selassie and the government of Ethiopia.

Anything could happen in Europe and one of the things considered quite possible extremely disturbing to respectable old England and all others is an agreement between Mussolini and Hitler to make a deal on Austria profitable for both not for Austria.

There is always however the memory of 1911 when Austria Italy and the kaiser had the triple alliance that did not stand up. Such alliances usually go along radical lines if they can't last France and Italy are natural allies both Latin England and the United States would probably be found not far apart if a really big world war should ever come with one or two other ifs.

Science proudly demonstrates for the Westinghouse company a new lamp that rivals the brains of the sun. The demonstrator explained that the temperature at the sun's surface is about 11 232 degrees Fahrenheit while the new lamp reaches 25 532 degrees Fahrenheit. That however as scientists know is a long way from the sun's best temperature.

According to Sir James Jeans there prevails in the depths of the sun temperature of forty million degrees centigrade which is considerably higher than any man made temperature.

If you came within 1 000 miles of a 5-cent piece with a temperature of 40 000 000 degrees centigrade you would be burned to a cinder. Hard to believe but true.

Behind the News

Men and Affairs Under The Washington Spotlight

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON July 1 — For the last three months manufacturing has been about normal. But it has employed only 85 per cent of its normal number of people and paid them only 78 per cent of the normal wage.

At the same time the workers found living expenses only 79 per cent of normal so they broke about even. Their wage expressed in purchasing power is normal.

The important impairment in the existing factory situation therefore would seem to be the unemployed 15 per cent and what to do about it. Nothing very effective has been done in the last year. Absorption of workers by factories has been slow. Approximately 3 per cent more are employed now than the average for last year. But the average of production is 10 per cent better. It raises the question of how much more industrial improvement will be necessary to take up the idle or departed 15 per cent.

Chart

The figures are from official government agencies. The production figure however is compiled by the federal reserve board from fewer factories than the employment and pay roll figures collected by another government department the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Hence the comparison is not statistically flawless although fundamentally it describes the situation more or less accurately.

You can gauge the situation for yourself from the following monthly chart. In it the years 1923 24 and 25 equal 100 except for the price index which is based on 1926 as 100. The figures except pay rolls are adjusted for seasonal variations.

Year	Industrial Production	Factory Employment	Factory Pay Rolls	Wholesale Price Index	Value of Building Contracts	Wholesale Trade	Retail Trade
1929 Aver	119	104.8	109.1	104.1	111	111	107
1933 Aver	81	74	62.5	78.6	73	78	80
1933 Aver	78	69.0	63.5	77	68	77	79
1934 Aver	90	85.5	81.9		84	84
1935 Aver	93	84.3	82		93	83.0
1936 Jan	96	84.3			93	85
Feb	94	81.1		80		85
Mar h	94	81.8	75.7	85	87
Apr il	100	81.9	77.9	91	85
May	101	8	79	88	86	86	86.5
June	100	80.0	9.0	87	87	85

Auto

If you will look behind the figures into specific lines of industries you will make more discoveries. Take steel which has shown such remarkable improvement lately.

The steel output for April was 100 and for May 105 while employment in the industry for those two months was 77.9 and 80 respectively. Take autos. The auto output was 121 in April and 118 in May employment 108 and 101.6. In other words production is stepping up faster than employment and the recovery of certain industries has not brought normal employment in them. Most notable example of course is tobacco. It was producing on a 146 per cent basis in May but employment was on a 97 per cent basis.

The apparent cause of the disparity of course is the efficiency improvement in production methods perfected in industry in the last ten years. Many such improvements were made before 1929.

Summer Slump

No one has a very good line on what particular business the bonus has helped or how much. Various estimates put out by the veteran organizations were for the purpose of promoting sentiment for the bonus. The actual expenditure will not necessarily flow into those lines. All that the authorities here know is that retail sales are being stimulated noticeably many old debts are being paid and automobile sales are continuing at an unusually high rate. Nevertheless the best guess is that the next 60 days will witness the usual summer slump of most lines. Industrial production may drop down somewhere between 90 and 95.

Drouth

Major worry of the new deal business makers is the drouth. Behind their hasty relief activities are the political considerations which will necessarily guide all government moves until November. In other words utmost federal relief is to be expected. Their personal opinions vary widely as to how serious the situation will prove to be.

Smart Politics

The consensus among the new deal tall sitters is that President Roosevelt's acceptance speech was a shrewd political document, but must not be read too literally. The idea that it means abandonment of the new deal economic theories of former years is not widely accepted. His strong espousal of the anti monopoly theory for instance reflects more political foresight than economic intention. At least, this is the view of his new deal associates.

What the speech means to them was that the President chose to use the arguments of his political opponents to advance his own cause. They think that is smart politics.

If he has changed his purpose one whit no one here has yet received any orders to that effect.

Elections Quiet in England

Campigns Lack Excitement Found in U. S. Contests

(EDITOR'S NOTE: British elections are conducted more quietly than those in this country. There is not the feverish excitement that attends our conventions and the campaign. An American press writer who spent several years in London discusses some of the differences.)

BY ALBERT W. WILSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 1.—The tense excitement of an American election campaign with its national and state contests, parades, noisy votes parades, pageantry for and rush of observers who amaze the sisters in Britain.

In comparison with the American the British election is a deep whisper. Its country is the throes of national campaign. There are no party conventions no platforms to be drawn up over and the election is run through a few weeks after the date is set.

Most political meetings are poorly attended as the semi-government controlled but strictly partisan radio extremely with the time limited to present.

Platforms Not Binding

The Conservative Labor and Liberal parties hold annual conferences regarding issues of the day but the resolutions thereof are not binding on the party leaders when they are in power or get in power.

There are no actual candidates for prime minister as there are for president. But everybody knows who the candidates are and the talking as to summary always invites the leader of the party in the majority elected parliament to form a government. The various groups parliamentary chiefs their party leaders and he is the prime minister or prospective prime minister.

Platforms Not Binding

A little Oxonian Major Clement R. Attlee is the present Labor party leader although his party is the biggest opposition group in parliament even their most sanguine members do not expect to elect another majority for several years.

Before last fall's election which was run off in 23 days after it was scheduled the Laborites took the precaution to sidetrack their aged leader the beloved sidewhiskered George Lansbury. They liked him as parliamentary leader but not as a prospective prime minister.

Baldwin Holds Post

Stanley Baldwin once a multi millionaire industrialist who has lost a great part of his fortune has led the conservative party since 1923 and now is serving his third term as prime minister. But from 1931 to last June Ramsay MacDonald leader of an independent Labor party was the normal leader of coalition of Conservatives and insurgent Labor and Liberal parties and therefore was prime minister.

As the Conservatives were the backbone of his coalition Mr. Baldwin always was recognized as the real prime minister even before he actually took over the office in June 1935.

Parliament and the government are chosen in Britain for five years. But even if the government is not overthrown a new election is usually called before that time. In contrast with American politics the party in power may call an election whenever it thinks its chances are rightest for a new five years tenure or for a strengthening of its majority in parliament.

Candidates Move About

The national coalition had just ended its fourth year when Mr. Baldwin "sprung" the election on last Nov. 14 Labor did make gains but they might have made bigger gains this year—the year of Britain's "Italian office" as Mr. Baldwin himself called the Italian conquest of Ethiopia.

Unlike the United States candidates for the British parliament do not have to run in constituencies where they live. The central party organization picks and moves their candidates about in districts as though they were on a chess board and the leaders are usually assigned easy districts.

Last fall Mr. MacDonald refused to take a safe constituency and was defeated in his old Seaham district. Four months ago however he ran for a Scottish universities seat and got back in parliament.

A British law requires candidates to forfeit a substantial deposit if they fail to get one fifth of the total votes given participants in any independent aspirants.

The job-seekers who mob conventions and candidates in America are unknown in Britain but only a very limited number of appointments depend on elections. Other posts are permanent civil service jobs.

New York Notes

O. O. McIntyre's Diary of Fact, Fancy and Folks

NEW YORK July 1—Police Dr. Charles Pease is still wandering about the West 72d street area where he has been a figure so long. West 72d street is hardly recognizable to those who knew it 25 years ago when Dr. Pease settled there but the good doctor has changed but little.

His beard and hair have changed from gray to milk white but, despite his 82 years he is erect as an Indian and has a coral pink complexion as clear as that of George Bernard Shaw. Most of the hours away from his practice have been given to fighting tobacco especially the cigaret.

He is also the arch foe of coffee alcohol tea and meat. For many years he spangled the headline as the benign Chauvin who roamed the town snatching pipes cigars and cigarets from mouths of amazed smokers and grinding them under his heel. Somehow he was never molested.

Nor has age slowed him. He still has time for a little vicarious grab bing as he makes his rounds. He is responsible for the law against smoking in the subway and has personally brought about hundreds of arrests. When critics jeer at his code of restriction he points to his physical fitness.

Few pastoral scenes excel those along the Connecticut country side. This morning returning from an all night stay 60 miles from New York we beheld an elegiac oak standing erect and peerless in a surrounding smother of mist edged by a lush circle of an even deeper green and rose spangled hedge. A sun was trying gallantly to break through the early vapors suffusing overhead with a drifting chiffon of pink opal and fiery veins of blood red. One somehow expected the piping of lutes. Further along another turn and the sun gathering strength had broken through streaming down on an awakening farm scene a canvas come to life with green cluttered cottage white holed orchard sheepfold dovecote the pamper of frisky colts and chanticleers in barnyard bravado. All set in a cluster of whispering trees. A poem for Edna Millay and a painting for Corot.

Incidentally Faith Baldwin has joined the Connecticut writing fraternity that spreads about New Canaan. She has bought one of the rambling old colonial houses that centers about the spread of 20 acres of fields ravines brooks and flowers. The estate will be called appropriately enough Fable Farm. And there will be a detached writers' bowered studio where the author will turn out her stories. For some years she has resided in the Brooklyn Out where the passion ends.

None of the old timers has been carrying on more valiantly than Joe Howard. He drew a crowd nightly to one of the cafes in the Gay 90 decorating many of his own songs and other airs of the day when he was the most prolific and successful of the popular song composers. He is edging 70 now but his voice is without quaver. When Irving Berlin was singing in Chinatown Howard was a fixture of the walk and he future looking idol. He often dropped around to hear Howard sing when in town.

Every person I suppose has some absurd little habit that clinks through the years. I know a successful banker whose mother, because he was delicate in youth used to loop a sort of knitted muffler or throat around his neck at night. That was when he was 14. He is now 64 and in the intervening years has never gone to bed without a similar gadget around his neck. He professes to be unable to sleep without it. Lord Northcliffe always went to sleep twiddling a pencil between his fingers.

In Ohio History

(From the John H. Calbraith collection of Ohio historical notes prepared for The Associated Press.)

KENT

The thriving little manufacturing city of Kent in Portage county was first called Franklin Mills. It was called Franklin because that was the name of the township in which it was located. Mills because of the abundant water power of the Cuyahoga river for mills. In 1827 there were two villages on the site of the present Kent—Franklin Mills and Carey.

Franklin township as a part of the Connecticut Reserve was originally sold for $1.000 an acre) to Aaron Olmsted of Hartford Conn. It was not until 1801 that the two villages were combined into the present city. At the near the Civil war be

The new town was named in honor of Marvin Kent, one of the N. Y. P. & O. Railroad company. Kent later became the geographic center of the railroad.

The Middle of What Road?

It has been said that Landon is a middle of the road man Just what is meant by that? The middle of what road? There are many roads Some travelers choose a road just for the pleasure of sight seeing or because they have not tried that road before They may be just taking a holiday Others choose the road which they think is the best to a certain destination

I know a middle-of the road type in public life who simply keeps in the middle of that road where the crowd is and sometimes in the middle of the crowd When the crowd turns back he turns back with it and is prepared to try any road the crowd momentarily favors He is not a leader but led and represents one of the two distinct types which appear throughout history

The other type has both the courage and the sagacity of leadership Courage alone is not enough nor is sagacity alone He must have both or fail Both are combined in a politic wisdom with reliance of the people on his judgment. He is out in front on the main road where a leader belongs His place is in the middle of the main road in order to hold the march of the whole out of the ditches or from trying futile short cuts

This does not mean that he is opposed to improving vehicular transport or to improving the road Especially the main road He will not favor parallel main roads to the same destination for the sake of building another road but would prefer to broaden the main road Nor will he favor building side roads for business or pleasure unless traffic and purse warrant the upkeep

I think that Landon has both courage and sagacity He will keep his feet solidly on that main road One gratifying thing to me about him is that no amount of flattery will convince him that he is the God given savior of his country with any new panacea for its salvation It is an advantage that he will always be ready to listen to advice and that when the responsibility is his he will not be deflected from the main purpose

No group of advisers will turn him into unmapped short-cuts except for exploration no group will keep him stuck in the mud because that would progress has a dangerous sound to them He knows that there is no progress without change that change is not progress and a nation can not stand still without the congestion of circulation in its parts which will lead to gangrene The man who thinks better than he talks when to my mind he talks very well put this quotation from Keller's Rough Road In his inaugural address of 1935 which was not a long inaugural address at that

Democracy evolves in essentially the same way as the horses hoof—through the operation of variation selection and transmission From the day when man first struck off a flint point evolutionary factors entered the social arena and there has been such continuity between the process in nature and that in society that the law of adjustment which begins where life begins continues to operate irresistibly if silently behind the most elaborate civilization

His faith in democracy is set with his feet on the earth and not in dreams He is the wholesome working faith of the pioneers in the processes of democracy He himself is one of democracy's own children in his industry and career

So while the processes of evolution are not new we do face a new situation created by a more advanced industrial civilization On his part he was convinced that the ultimate goal would be a modified form of individual rights and ownership of property out of which will come a wider spread of prosperity and opportunity for a fuller and richer life for man—which is really the purpose of the migration and the battles which made the American democracy in a new land

Further on in this inaugural address he recalls all of us each in his part to first principles

The problems before us can not be settled by the congress or the legislature They can not be solved by the so-called leaders of industry finance and business They cannot be shifted to any group or class They are an obligation for all We must not engage in fanciful or self indulgent dreams From the chaos of our present economic confusion we must center our efforts toward the solution of basic problems

There spoke this middle-of the road type in the council of appeal and leadership We must do it ourselves and we can

One can not talk with Landon and not be convinced that the New Deal in its general plan and as practiced is wholly repugnant to him though he does not pound the table and shout his indignation With him indignation is a process of reason to a conclusion Inevitably his thrifty soul is irritated by examples of spendthrift futility Inevitably his sense of administrative direction is irritated by miscellaneous administrative incorrectio and waste

But an lessons learned from the New Deal he would profit by any features of it worth saving he would save A part of thrift is salvage and even a small amount of salvage must not be overlooked He would not refuse to finish a public work of real future service because it had been started by the New Deal

I have been asked if Landonian economy did not oppose proper upkeep and expansion This appears to me as one of the most foolish questions about a creative business man whose business was taking wealth out of the earth Those who have ridden about Kansas with him have heard his talk about increasing and bettering plants from educational and industrial to farm homes He has an incorrigible optimism that this will be done and under the American system once we get back on the main road with budget balanced He does not believe there can be overproduction if we hold to sound principles as a people

This brings us to another question What of the 5 000 000 unemployed which it is estimated we shall always have with us? He realizes the depression must leave us with derelicts and it is our duty to care for them but I judge doubts the number will be as high as the estimate once we are back to normal He has thought much on social security and I am sure we shall hear more from him on this subject so there will be no mistaking his views The man who thinks better than he talks who knows what labor is himself and how hard it is to earn and hold a dollar will give us his conclusions as usual once he has thought any subject through

But the first premise for the solution of all problems is the restoration of economic and financial confidence that will set our feet back on the old main road in spirit and enterprise Our inherent ambition and energy will accomplish this in real prosperity rather than the prosperity of inflation once the budget is balanced even if we must continue to endure bad administration

And there is the farm problem Beyond any farm plan beyond his own views based on conservation and a constructive policy I should say that the best answer was in the man himself his mind heart and method For here he certainly does know his subject It is bred in him Here his loyalties are concerned The counsil is with his own people to the farm states

And you have not to talk with him long to know how truly they are his own people They stand for a heroic history and a heroic present in their troubles And the easterner who is among them long shares this view They become your people too

You do not want them reduced to the state of European peasants with whom they have to compete in the sale of their products while they pay the prices of tariff protection on what they buy Landon is a member of their family who talks frankly to them inside the family but if I am sure of anything about him it is that he will fight to a finish for that family against all outsiders in family fashion

Another item a small one perhaps is dignity It is not unbecoming in a President of the United States All agree that in the oil fields before he became Governor a body ever at least treated with the friendly pat of the open door There is a certain barrier one does not pass All agree that there is nothing cheap about Alf Landon And that represents an inherent quality which you may find in a day laborer but missing in the son of great wealth or great family

What kind of a campaign will he make? is a question asked not only by politicians but by others who see that the battle will be over a great issue The answer to that is "In the campaign he made for Governor of Kansas Politicians may love him not for the enemies he has made but the victories he has won

The saying which Kansas have been repeating for more than three years—There is more in Alf than I thought—will apply to him as chosen candidate and elected President. It is much better than "There is not so much in Alf as I thought" When you dig into the barrel in this instance the big apples are at the bottom as I found in my talks with him

I hazard the prophesy this without personalities cheap satirical flings wisecracks or abuse but dead in earnest shooting straight at the target he will keep to the issue in a steady siege of factual aim and logic gaining ground month by month This seemed to be the view of the enemy considering how busy some scouts were when I was in Topeka trying to find something on him and learning that the one potential hope that he was "Standard Oil's Man was a false alarm They learned too that he does not depend on ghost writers to write his speech's He writes them himself

Landon appeals to me to fill the bill for those who want a President who will not agree with the latest man he meets who will be in the pocket of no group and will be inherently and wholesomely the exponent of the American system and deeper in the confidence of the people in his third year than the first

It might be well to have a quiet president pleasant for us to look up from the newspaper at the breakfast table or after the day's work thinking The government in Washington seems to be going all right—looks as though Alf would have a bigger surplus than the estimates This would allow us to pay more attention to our private affairs and less to Washington affairs since the vast majority of our population does not yet live in Washington

Finally I repeat that if this reads like a campaign biography make the most of it and the governor of Kansas is to blame for it As Mrs Landon reads it I can imagine her saying "If I didn't know you were such a great man I'm getting frightened" and Alf answering "Don't let these pleasant words start you star gazing so!

There are reasons why personally I should prefer not to have him become President He will have to do so much thinking in the White House and be so preoccupied in seeing important leaders and submitting not to mention the original Landon men that I might not have another talk with him And I think anyhow I should enjoy a talk with him in his home in Independence Kansas better than in the ulcers study of the White House

RELIEF FOR DROUTH RIDDEN AREA RUSHED

25,000 to 50,000 Men Will Be Given Work on Dam and Road Projects.

By The Associated Press

ST. PAUL, July 1 — Works progress administrators of five states today rushed a program of work relief for farmers whose crops were ruined by the drouth.

They aimed to provide employment for at least 25,000 and possibly 50,000 men within the next ten days.

Harry Hopkins, WPA chieftain who drafted the plans at a conference with state spokesmen here yesterday, said prevailing hourly wage rates would be paid on the projects in the stricken sections of Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming.

Approved undertakings consisted mainly of farm-to-market roads, water conservation, rural school construction and recreation ground development.

At Washington, President Roosevelt remarked the extremely serious nature of the situation and indicated millions in relief money would be earmarked for the aid of 50,000 to 100,000 farm families.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace left the national capital for a first hand view of the damage in the north central states as fresh reports of burned fields and feed shortage came from the arid areas.

In the Brindstone, S. D., district, ranchers and farmers were reported cutting their small grain for hay.

Rain fell in Kansas, and the Ohio, middle Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys, but the dry northwest areas were not so fortunate. Warmer weather was forecast there.

A record-breaking heat wave brought new crop losses to southern states, where damage already was estimated at $100,000,000.

The interstate commerce commission extended its emergency freight rate reductions for farmers in Montana, the Dakotas and Wyoming who found it necessary to ship their livestock to other sections for pasturage.

NATURAL BRIDGE BUS CRASH FATAL TO FIVE

By The Associated Press

NATURAL BRIDGE, Va., July 1—A passenger bus, careening out of control atop Virginia's famous natural bridge, crashed into a bank early today, killing five and injuring 24.

The bus was driven into the bank by the driver to save the skidding vehicle from plunging over the brink of the 200-foot gorge. The bus rolled over and stopped within only a few feet of the edge.

When the bus got out of control, J. J. Olderson of Roanoke, the driver, threw his weight on the wheel and turned it abruptly into the bank. The front end was crushed and he and others in the forward seats were killed.

The dead:

J. J. Olderson, formerly of Birmingham, Ala., resident of Roanoke past three months.

J. P. Hamilton, Birmingham, a bus driver.

An unidentified white woman of about 38.

Another unidentified white woman.

A man tentatively identified as John Keosee, Tazewell county, Virginia.

The injured were at Jackson hospital, Lexington, and at Natural Bridge hotel, here.

HUSBAND SUSPECTED OF IN-LAWS KILLING

By The Associated Press

OGDEN, Utah, July 1—A search for George Mortensen, 37, accused as the slayer of his estranged wife's parents, shifted to Salt Lake City today on a report he was seen there several hours after they were found beaten to death with a pickhandle.

The couple killed was Mr. and Mrs. Adam Snyder, in whose Ogden home Mrs. Grace Snyder Becker Mortensen sought refuge because her husband "drank too much."

OHIO G. O. P. URGES DAVEY REMOVAL

they have demonstrated that even with enormously increased income the government can not balance its budget as long as they are in power, and therefore they must depend for recovery upon the false kind of prosperity that is produced by squandering their assets without adding to their national wealth."

Admitting that the new deal has brought about a "certain stimulated prosperity," he said you "cannot squander and waste billions upon billions of dollars and expend your resources without creating prosperity for certain people."

Denounces Expenditures

"But," he declared "any prosperity based upon going into debt, and squandering assets without increasing national wealth, is built upon the shifting sands and will not endure for a single moment after the squandering and wasting has ceased."

Denying the Democratic charge that Republicans only criticise and offer nothing constructive, Stewart asserted the objectives of the Republicans were to "balance the budget at any cost," an adherence to the doctrine "that the government will not compete with private enterprise," and an "international stabilization of the currency."

"Once give business confidence by making it feel safe from government squandering and from government's improper competition," he declared, "and you will have no further problems of relief or charity, except in the case of those who are so physically or mentally handicapped as to be natural wards of their more fortunate brothers.

Want No Exploitation

"Of course we maintain that there must be no exploitation of either labor or the American people by private enterprise," he said.

Except for government regulation of business to prevent abuses, he said "let government keep its hands off of individual ambition and enterprise and let American balance its budget and stabilize its currency, and America will be on its way to the greatest era of prosperity that has ever been since the dawn of time."

The speaker discounted what he said was a current expression that the Democrats would win because they have so much money to spend, with the assertion:

"We do not believe that the descendants of the men and women who gave their all to found this government of the people, are going to be bought by money which was intended to express the tender regard, not of Democratic politicians, but of all of the American people for those of our fellow citizens who are in distress and despair."

Points To God's Command

Denouncing what he termed a "brain truster" economic doctrine to "create prosperity and good times by cultivating scarcity and living on your capital," the speaker said:

"When the Almighty evicted Adam and Eve from the Garden of Eden for having speculated in the apple market, he laid down a political and economic doctrine that was simple and, through the working of which the world has steadily progressed.

"He said to Adam, 'In the sweat of thy brow shalt thou eat thy bread' and that has been considered sound doctrine until these present day magicians at Washington have said, don't sweat, and we'll hand bread to you!"

The battle cry of the Republicans, he said, must be "the return to sanity in politics and economics, and the preservation of the American government from any taint of European philosophy."

Urging the election of Bricker as governor, Stewart said "we expect every Republican in Ohio to zealously and valiantly work for his triumphant election, to the end that we can hold up our heads, instead of bowing them, when we mention the governor of the state of Ohio."

Hamilton Optimistic

Saying he was not versed on state issues, Hamilton remarked on his arrival here:

"Whatever they are, I'll bet the Republicans are right."

Indicating he would attempt to shoot holes through President Roosevelt's acceptance speech in his address to the convention tonight, Hamilton declared the President had admitted weakness by urging Gov. Herbert Lehman of New York to seek a third term and Frank Murphy, high commissioner of the Philippines, to run for governor of Michigan.

"As far as I know," he said, "it is the first time in American history that a President has had to ask an individual to run for a state office in an effort to pull the national ticket through in a national election.

"Usually, it is a case of the national ticket pulling the state ticket to victory. In this instance it seems to be a case of the tail wagging the dog."

Lehman to Yield

Gov. Lehman announced just yesterday he would yield to party pressure and seek a third term. Murphy, former mayor of Detroit, has indicated he would run.

Ohio Republicans temporarily shunted aside their problems of hammering a platform together and primed their ears for Hamilton's address tonight and the one of their candidate to oust Martin L. Davey from the governor's chair, Atty. Gen. John W. Bricker.

As cleft-chinned Hamilton viewed the newly-organized Lemke-O'Brien third or Union party with equanimity, National Committeeman Frank F. "Dick" Taggart and State Chairman Ed D. Schorr made arrangements for him to carry out in Ohio his announced determination of meeting every county chairman in the country. They scheduled a meeting of Ohio chairmen this morning.

Discussing the Union party, Hamilton said:

"My opinion is that it will take five to six votes from the Democrats for every vote it takes from the Republicans."

Caucuses Scheduled

After the afternoon session district delegations scheduled caucuses to determine members on various committees.

The platform committee probably will not go into session until after the night meeting. The platform probably will be presented for adoption Thursday morning.

State leaders continued informal sessions working out proposed planks.

Schorr said the demand for tickets to the night session far exceeded the supply. It will be held in the Columbus auditorium.

Brown to Help Knox Forces

COLUMBUS, O., July 1—John D. M. Hamilton, Republican national chairman, said today Clarence J. Brown, Blanchester, O., publisher, would serve as political contact man for Col. Frank Knox of Chicago, Republican vice presidential nominee.

Hamilton said Col. Knox had asked Brown, who managed the Chicago publisher's pre-convention presidential campaign, to serve as his representative of the national committee.

Brown will establish headquarters in Chicago and accompany Knox on all of his speaking tours.

Dispute Brews Over Black Bears in Game Preserve

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 1 — A controversy brewed today over whether the black bears in the Roosevelt game preserve are harmless if let alone or are dangerous wild animals which should be banished from the southern Ohio forest.

Some residents of the Portsmouth section, worried by a bear's attack on one of their citizens, demanded removal of the animals.

The state conservation division which sees good in nearly all wild animals, thinks its bears should be left in the preserve.

"I'm puzzled about the story of that bear's attack," said Lawrence Wooddell, conservation commissioner. "There is not an authentic record in North America of an unprovoked attack by a black bear upon a man. Black bears never attack a human unless they are attacked first, or their young are threatened."

Wooddell has sent a man to investigate the story of Milton Webb, 26-year-old herb digger. Webb said that while he was on Little Bear creek June 25 a big black bear attacked him without warning. The animal mauled him, chewed his legs and a hand, and then walked unconcernedly away, Webb related.

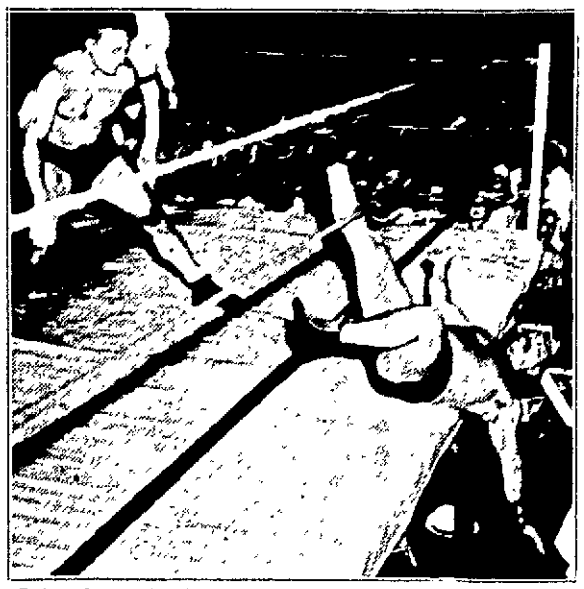
ALI BABA GETS TREATED ROUGHLY



Before the match, billed for the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, between Ali Baba and Everett Marshall, of Colorado, at Columbus, Monday night, the glowering Turk threatened to "pick him up and drop him hard," but just the opposite happened as this picture shows. Ali Baba is depicted falling helplessly out of the ring. Marshall won in 39.20. A large number of wrestling fans from Marion and vicinity witnessed the match. (Associated Press Photo)

Zioncheck Heads For Seattle To Start Campaign

Fun-Loving Solon Ordered from Plane to Train After Stop in Chicago.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 1 — Bounding from an airliner to a detective squad car and finally to a train, Washington's fun-loving rover—Rep. Marion A. Zioncheck—sped toward Seattle today to campaign for reelection.

All was orderly during the visiting congressman's six-hour stay in Chicago—until he was ordered out of a passenger plane. Then all was confusion—a welter of indignant statements, hurried telephone calls, double-time action.

Zioncheck and George Bishop, a member of the Washington, D. C., police force who accompanied him here from the national capital, were comfortably seated in a Northwest Airlines plane last night.

"The motors were running," the congressman related. "Then an attendant opened the door and said: 'We're very sorry, but all reservations are sold out.'

"I wanted to know why they should cancel ours. The attendant replied: 'I don't know. There's nothing else to do but get off.'"

F. J. Bixler, traffic agent, said Zioncheck had been refused passage because he had not purchased tickets in advance and because the plane had a capacity load when he arrived at the municipal airport.

"I must admit we were afraid to take him up," Bixler added. "We are very careful not to endanger the lives of our passengers. We told him to get off. He refused. Finally we ordered all passengers out. While he was raising hell in the hangar, we reloaded the passengers and took off."

"Zioncheck made several telephone calls, signed autographs for a curious crowd, posed for pictures and announced:

"I'm going to sue."

He leaped into the automobile of his "courtesy escort"—the Chicago police department's pickpocket and confidence detail. They drove to the union station near the loop.

Zioncheck Faces Formidable Foes

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, July 1—If Rep. Marion Zioncheck makes good his promise to the national capital—"I'll be back, you wait and see"—he will have to defeat 16 men and one woman who aspire to succeed him.

And there may be more candidates before Zioncheck returns Friday from the house of representatives, eastern jails, night clubs and psychopathic wards.

The woman is Mrs. Mary O'Meara Pardee, 55-year-old former woman's suffrage leader and school teacher.

"I'm not running against Zioncheck nor any one else," she said, "but for the office."

She said Zioncheck "started his climb in politics when he began associating himself with radicals in the northwest," and added he was "one of a group of persons purposely 'shipped' to western states to establish the beginnings of a Socialistic government."

Few persons except candidates openly counted Zioncheck out of the race.

Some observers argued privately that with labor backing Zioncheck would get 100,000 of the district's 200,000 votes.

PHILLIPS WILL LIKELY BE ENVOY TO ITALY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 1—Well-posted diplomatic circles expect that William Phillips, undersecretary of state soon will be appointed American ambassador to Italy.

President Roosevelt announced yesterday that Breckinridge Long, the present ambassador, had resigned because of ill health. While the President declined any comment as to his successor, it was believed that the administration had settled upon Phillips as the most likely man for the post.

President Roosevelt expressed the hope yesterday that Long would regain his health quickly and that he would take an active part in the fall campaign.

J. P. MORGAN UNDER CARE OF PHYSICIANS

Taken to Long Island in Stretcher; Neuritis Makes Walking Painful.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 1—J. Pierpont Morgan, the financier, suffering from neuritis that made walking painful, was taken to his Long Island estate at Glen Cove today and placed under close medical care.

Two sons of the 60-year old banker, Junius and Henry, were at the Mill Neck station of the Long Island railroad when a special car to which their father had been carried by stretcher and ambulance yesterday at West Manchester, Mass., arrived.

Junius Morgan said,

"There's nothing wrong. He just needs rest. The doctors decided he had better come home and rest for a while."

The banker's sister, Mrs Stephen V. R. Crosby, with whom he had been visiting in Massachusetts, said her brother was only "slightly ill." Dr. George Denny, who attended him there, said his condition was not serious.

MURDER IN CHICAGO REMAINS MYSTERY

hour with officials attempting to solve the enigma surrounding the death of Mrs. Florence Thompson Castle.

Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan announced he would be turned over later to Dr. Harry Hoffman, criminal court psychiatrist, and added:

"Although there are many clues and angles, I'm afraid we have made no definite steps. It is just as big a mystery as ever. We are holding no one except the boy."

Tells of Man's Appearance

Jimmy has told detectives a huge man of Negroid appearance crept into their hotel room early Monday, crushed his mother's skull with blows of a paving brick and choked her as he watched the assailant. Portions of the statement were regarded with skepticism.

Capt. William O'Brien questioned the boy's assertion that he saw his mother slugged at 1:30 a. m. and then went back to sleep until 5:30 a. m., when he coolly dressed and went to notify the desk clerk. There was an outside chance, the captain said, that the boy struck his mother because he was disgruntled at leaving his paternal grandparents' home to rejoin her. Jimmy's claim that the intruder choked Mrs. Castle was disproved by coroner's physicians.

The 24-year old woman married J. W. Bolin in Pueblo, Colo., in July, 1933. Subsequently, he was sentenced to the Colorado prison for robbery. Later she married Faber Castle, a Chicago butcher. They were divorced a year ago.

Sidney Schaps, cabaret master of ceremonies listed as an admitted admirer of Mrs. Castle, was released.

Having renewable blades, a knife has been invented especially for carving designs on fiber board.

SHIPMENT OF BUTTER TO BE DISTRIBUTED

1,500 Pounds To Be Given Relief Families Here Thursday.

Distribution of nearly 1,500 pounds of butter to families on relief will begin Thursday at 9 a. m. at the Marion county relief office on South Prospect street, it was reported today by Carl Campbell, surplus commodity distributor for Marion county.

The butter will be given out to all relief families and to supplemented WPA families, that is, large families who need some relief to supplement their WPA income. Mr. Campbell said no butter will be issued to single persons.

The shipment of butter is the second in about three weeks, being preceded by a shipment of nearly a ton.

PORTSMOUTH PLANT UNDER HEAVY GUARD

Sheriff's Squad Takes Control of Entire Area To Prevent Violence.

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 1—A heavily-armed squad of special deputies enforced quiet today around the two-mile-long plant of the Wheeling Steel Corp., closed by a strike since May 22.

Strengthening his preparations to prevent recurrence of the wild riot of last week, when one company guard was killed, and four other men were wounded, Sheriff Arthur Oakes and the special squad assumed control of the entire area surrounding the plant in New Boston.

He sent a number of deputies to destroy stone "forts" which he said had been constructed along the Ohio river, while another group removed automobiles and railroad ties blocking plant entrances.

Chief Deputy H. T. Caldwell asserted the entrances must be kept open at all times to give the sheriff, company executives, maintenance employes, and guards free access.

Several radio cruisers augmented the foot patrol around the plant.

A squad of deputies escorted 25 executives and maintenance men into the plant late yesterday and took about 20 others out. Union pickets protested against one superintendent entering and he remained outside. He was A. E. Forsberg, whose name did not appear on a list of "approved" employes given permission by the strike committee to enter or leave the plant at will.

NOTED ANARCHIST STRICKEN IN FRANCE

By The Associated Press

NICE, France, July 1—Alexander Berkman, the internationally-known anarchist, died June 28 in a hospital here of a self-inflicted bullet wound, it was disclosed today.

The oft-jailed friend of Emma Goldman, with whom he was deported from the United States in 1920, was 66 years old.

Hospital authorities said Berkman was taken to the hospital with a bullet in his chest. He had been found, wounded, in his home in Nice.

FORMER OHIO RACE CHIEF UNDER FIRE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 1—State Examiner Raymond R. Wilson reported to State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy today that former State Racing Commission Secretary George E. Gates of Massillon had failed to account for $5419.90 of commission funds.

The examiner said this amount of revenues had not been deposited by Gates in the state treasury and made a finding for recovery against him for the full amount. Gates was bonded in the sum of $10,000.

He resigned last January.

Action of the commission in 1934 in paying "out" bets of the Hamilton Jockey club's race meet at Dayton, totaling $223, was criticised by the examiner, Wilson.

ROOSEVELT SIGNS GOVERNMENT BILL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 1—The Walsh-Healy bill, described by its proponents as applying to 75 per cent of American business, was signed by President Roosevelt yesterday.

It requires firms selling materials or supplies to the government to observe a 40-hour week, a ban against child labor, prevailing wage standards and other labor requirements.

speak at the camp at 8 o'clock.

Scout Siple visited Marion in 1931 following his return from the first Byrd Antarctic expedition when he represented the Boy Scouts of America, having been selected from the entire membership for the honor. At that time he spoke before a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs and attended Marion's first anual camporal and presented awards at a court of honor held in the evening at the Epworth M. E. church. The Sea Scout ship, sponsored by the church, is named "S. S. Paul Siple" in honor of his visit here and members of the ship will form a guard of honor under the leadership of Skipper Harold Power to escort him to camp Thursday.

In addition to his achievements as a young explorer, Siple is also an accomplished writer and speaker. In 1931 he wrote, "A Boy Scout with Byrd," now in its eleventh edition in English and reprinted in five other languages. His second book, "Exploring at Home," was published in September 1932. He has met with popular acclaim and is called upon often to speak of his adventures at the "bottom of the world."

In addition to his duties as head of biological work on the second Byrd expedition, Siple was designated by Admiral Byrd to be in charge of equipping and erecting the tiny base, 123 miles south of Little America, in which Admiral Byrd lived alone for four and a half months in 1934. In October, 1935, Siple was elected first president of the American Polar society, whose headquarters is at the American Museum of Natural History in New York. He is a member of the national camping committee of the Boy Scouts and while at Camp Owens will make an inspection of the camp reservation.

SLAYER CALMLY AWAITING CHAIR

COLUMBUS, O., July 1 — Richard Keller, 31, calmly awaited today his electrocution at Ohio penitentiary tonight for slaying Adolph Woest, Cincinnati laundry proprietor, Nov. 11, 1933.

Gov. Martin L. Davey refused yesterday to intervene. The state supreme court previously had declined to review the case.

CANTON FIRM GETS BUILDING CONTRACT

Gibbons-Grable Co. To Erect Addition to Marion Postoffice.

The Gibbons-Grable Co. Canton contracting firm, has been awarded a federal government contract to build an addition to the Marion postoffice at a cost of $49,973, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington, D. C.

Officials of the firm were unable today to say when work will be started, explaining the [illegible] proceed in accordance with [illegible] structions which they expect [illegible] in the next week or 10 days from the treasury department in Washington.

A number of postoffice employes who are obliged to work in the basement because of lack of space will be given first-floor working room by the addition. Also a driveway will be built along the east side of the office, connecting with East Church street.

The contracting firm also has the contract to build the new Mt. Gilead postoffice.

Elder Dillinger Fails To Attract Exposition Folk

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 1—John Dillinger Sr. is slipping at the box office and Mrs. J. R. Castle, his employer at a Great Lakes exposition concession, is considering the necessity of parting with his services.

"I hate to let him go," said Mrs. Castle today, "but unless something happens I don't know what I can do. People around here just don't seem to be interested.

"He's such a nice old gentleman, and he tells how he ran a store while his son John ran around loose and got into bad company."

The elder Dillinger, 71, had a day off yesterday.

"He was sick at his hotel," said Mrs. Castle as the guillotine, electric chair and hanging department of her concession did business to a slim crowd. "The weather around here for the last couple of days has been pretty bad."

GUARDSMEN TO CAMP JULY 4TH

Stand Day in Preparation for Training Period in Kentucky.

Members of Co. D, 166th Infantry, United States national guard, will spend the Fourth of July at "Camp Argonne," Ky., as a training period for two weeks of training in August at Camp Knox, near Louisville, Ky.

The guardsmen will mobilize at 8 a. m., set up camp at 8 and then will begin two weeks of training in machine gun drill, gun drill, formation marksmanship, close order, extended order drill, trench warfare, pack rolling and bayonet pitching.

They will break camp Sunday at 4 p. m. Capt. H. L. Taylor, commanding officer of Co. D., has invited contributing members and friends in general to visit the camp during the two day period.

The camp is located on a farm about one mile east of Waldo. Capt. Taylor said it may be reached from the center of Waldo by crossing the bridge to the east and then following markers which will be posted along the road.

Capt. Taylor will be in charge of the camp, assisted by Lieut. Carl F. Short and Lieut. Thurman Sale. The company will take its own field kitchen and company cooks will prepare the meals.

Non-commissioned officers who will direct much of the training are Sergeants Arthur Bicknell, George Nash, Carl Pollock, Peter Dickard and Corporal Ralph Stewart.

Camp training in August will be at Fort Knox, Ky., instead of at Camp Perry as in the past, Capt. Taylor said. The change applies to national guard units in Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Kentucky. Members of Co. D and Headquarters Co., First Battalion, will be in camp from Aug. 1 to Aug. 15.

The Loyal Workers class of the Church of Christ Sunday school held a picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Martin west of town Sunday in honor of the birthday anniversary of their son Richard.

The regular meeting of Caledonia post No. 401 American Legion was held in the Legion hall Saturday night. The Post completed plans for the participation of the Legion and the Auxiliary in the annual home coming celebration to be held on the Fourth of July. It was also decided the post would cooperate with the Fish and Game association of Marion county in their efforts to obtain dams in the Whetstone creek and present damage to fences and live stock of the property owners along the creek. Commander Glenn Allen gave a report on the progress of the Boys' State which is now being conducted by the Legion at the State fair grounds in Columbus.

Should a motor vehicle overturn a new device automatically breaks the ignition circuit, minimizing danger of fire.

24 IN COUNTY ASK TO ENROLL IN CCC

Group Will Go to Mansfield Thursday for Examination and Enlistment.

Twenty-four Marion county applicants for enrollment in the federal government's civilian conservation corps will leave for Mansfield early Thursday to undergo physical examinations prior to actual acceptance in the CCC. The county had been allotted a quota of 10 enrolees and today the number of alternates to accompany the group was increased to 10, Frank S. Burns, deputy CCC selecting agent for the county announced. Four of the candidates will enter the CCC as camp cooks.

The increase in the number of alternates permitted to take the physical examination resulted from the possibility that other counties might not be able to fill their quotas, Mr. Burns said. The youths will be furnished transportation to Mansfield by the county commissioners and are requested to be at the courthouse, prepared to leave, promptly at 8 a. m., Thursday.

A later enrollment, which is expected to be held some time before July 15, probably will offer a still larger quota to be filled by Marion county, Mr. Burns said. More than 7,000 men from Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Columbus, are to be enrolled in the CCC during July to fill vacancies caused by the discharge of others to accept outside employment.

U. S. army headquarters, the dispatch said, announced that the selection would include nearly 500 war veterans and the remainder will be young men between 17 and 28 and experienced men located in the vicinity of the established camps.

Emergency School Plans Course in Home Hygiene

Registration in Classes May Be Made With Carl Lister at Relief Headquarters

Preparations are under way to day to offer courses in home hygiene and care of the sick to Marion county women and girls under the supervision of the Marion county emergency school administration in cooperation with the American Red Cross. Registration blanks appearing in today's edition of The Star are to be filled out and delivered to Carl L. Lister, emergency school supervisor, room 14 in county relief headquarters at 161 South Prospect street. No charge is made for registration or participation in the courses.

Classes will probably start the latter part of this week, Mr. Lister said, and the hours will be decided upon by those taking the course and the instructor after registration is completed. Mrs. Ruth Johnston of 626 Uncapher avenue has been appointed instructor and has the indorsement of the American Red Cross. Mrs. Johnston is a trained nurse and a graduate of Bethesda hospital in Cincinnati.

Classes At Y. M. C. A.

Class rooms have been donated by the Y. M. C. A. and in addition to the instruction and lecture room a fully equipped home bedroom will be used for demonstration and practice work. The room is equipped with twin beds, a baby's bassinette, a large composition doll for demonstrations in infant care and other equipment. Bedroom furniture has been loaned by a local furniture store, mattresses for the beds were donated by the Kings Daughters, sick room equipment by the Marion county Red Cross Chapter and bed linen by local dealers.

The course will be divided into three groups, one for all girls who were members of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades in the public and parochial schools last year, group two for girls who were members of the sophmore, junior and senior classes in high schools last year and group three for women not included in the other two classes.

For the work in home hygiene and care of the sick the American Red Cross has set a standard and certificates will be awarded to those students who have achieved the standard when they have completed the course. A final test will be given to determine the issuance of Red Cross certificates, Mr. Lister said.

The course offered group one is intended to prepare the girls of junior high school age to assist intelligently in the daily duties in the home in the care of younger brothers and sisters and in the care of the sick. It gives also an understanding and appreciation of the need to guard and maintain health, creates an interest in working for betterment of civic conditions, offers a means of becoming acquainted with future responsibilities as home makers and provides an opportunity for vocational guidance in choosing the profession of nursing or allied subjects.

Two Other Groups

The course for the other two groups is more advanced and is intended to provide all adult groups with the simple, safe and effective means of meeting the many special problems in sickness and the emergencies which may arise in any home. It also stresses the proper care of infants and children.

All girls and women interested in enrolling in the course for which no charge of any kind is made, are urged to fill in the blanks immediately and bring or mail them to Mr. Lister's office. Arrangements for class hours will be made after enrollment is completed. Additional registration blanks may be obtained from Mr. Lister. American Red Cross publications will be used as textbooks. Registration blanks appear below.

Cards Regain League Lead; Reds Now Ahead of Giants

ST. LOUIS BACK IN TOP SPOT AFTER TWO WINS FROM PIRATES

Yankees Bury Red Sox and Win Doubleheader; Gehrig Gets Two Homers.

That rough and ready gang of Cardinals from the other side of the tracks that plays the game of baseball for all it's worth is proving a tough team to keep down despite the recent feats of Charley Grimm's Chicago Cubs.

After being shoved down into second place for one day and then sharing the lead with the Cubs for another the Cards fought their way back into first place yesterday with a double victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Both games were tough ones but under the leadership of John Leonard (Pepper) Martin and the venerable Jesse "Pop" Haines, the Cardinals won 2 to 1 and 4 to 3.

The Yankees buried the Boston Red Sox, under a landslide of blows to win a doubleheader 10 to 5 and 6 to 3, and increased their lead to 9½ games. A crowd of 51,046 at the Yankee stadium saw Lou Gehrig contribute his 19th and 20th home runs to the festivities to take second place in the major league race behind Jimmie Foxx, who has 22 homers.

A third major development yesterday was the Giants' drop out of the first division for the first time since 1932. A 7 to 6 setback at the hands of the Boston Bees put the Terrymen one point behind the Cincinnati Reds, who had an open date. The Phillies-Dodgers, Tigers-White Sox and Indians-Browns games were rained out.

Mace Brown limited the Cards to three hits in the first game but Haines out-thought rather than out-pitched him. "Pop" gave eight hits, but few good ones to swing at. Going into the seventh a run behind, Stu Martin singled and Pepper brought him home with a triple, then scored the winning run on Joe Medwick's fly. The Blues got off ahead again in the second clash but St. Louis got to Ralph Birkofer in the sixth and tied the score at 3-3. In the ninth a single and an error put Terry Moore on second and Wild Horse Martin brought him in with a single.

In addition to Gehrig's two homers—one in each game the Yanks hammered five Boston pitchers for 22 hits one a homer by Myrll Hoag. They had to rally in the eighth inning of each contest to win although they shelled Lefty Grove out in the opener and did some hefty clouting against Johnny Marcum in the afterpiece. Lefty Gomez also failed to go the route.

The Giants got off to a four-run lead in the second but failed to hold it as Hal Schumacher gave up 13 hits, four by Mickey Haslin. Mickey drove in Boston's winning run in the ninth after Tony Cuccinello had singled and advanced on Hal Lee's sacrifice.

Marshall Ready To Meet Three Title Claimants On One Night

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 1 — Billy Sandow, manager of Everett Marshall of Colorado, who lifted the heavyweight wrestling championship claims from Ali Baba, the Turk, here Monday night, tossed a challenge to the world today.

"Marshall is ready to meet any one, any time, any place for any amount," Sandow said, "but our first aim is to wipe out any title claims any other wrestlers think they might have."

Sandow then took another thrust at his pet peeve the so-called wrestling trust, which he said a number of promoters are operating.

"The 'trust' Marshall's manager said, 'has three wrestlers it is booking as champions. Dave Levine is one. Another is Danno O'Mahoney, still called champion by the trust despite the fact Dick Shikat threw him in Madison Square Garden and the New York commission gave Shikat the title. The third is Vincent Lopez of California, billed as the champion out there.

"I posted $5,000 with Al Haft (Columbus promoter) today, with this proposition Marshall will toss his title into the ring against all three of those men in one night. If any of them throw him they take the title. And if Marshall doesn't throw all three of them in an hour, the $5,000 goes to charity. And if the three of them are able to stay a total of one hour with Marshall they can split the $5,000, and we'll give another $5,000 to charity.

"Now let them come on if they want to be recognized as champion."

Haft, who signed Marshall for his next three bouts, prior to the match with Ali Baba, said that Fred Kohler, Chicago promoter was bidding for a title fray between the Colorado blond and John Pesek, the Nebraska "Tiger Man," to be staged in the Windy City in August or September.

REDS FANS ORDER SERIES TICKETS

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., July 1—Perched in fourth place in the National league pennant race, the crimson-knickered Cincinnati Reds got set for another round with the second-place Chicago Cubs today while some enthusiastic fans sent in orders for world series seats.

Powel Crosley Jr., who assumed control of the Reds yesterday by inking up a two-year option, and General Manager Larry MacPhail informed the would-be world series boosters that they could not accept such reservations—yet.

Cincinnati's standing is the highest spot the team has occupied this late in the season for more than a decade.

RAIN DELAYS RACES

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., July 1—Benjamin Franklin White, veteran of the harness racing game, will be trying for his ninth victory out of 15 starts in the rainy day sweepstakes today at the North Randall track. White will send Twilight Song and Schnapps, two of his star juvenile trotters, after the major share of the $1,650 purse, an event carried over from yesterday when rain forced postponement of the second day's Grand Circuit program.

RED BIRDS WIN, 8-4, FROM LOUISVILLE; SAINTS WIN AGAIN

Minneapolis Loses to Kansas City Blues, 4-3; Toledo Wallops Indianapolis.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 1 — That hot breath on the necks of the league leading Milwaukee Brewers today was St. Paula.

The Saints won their fourth consecutive game and pulled within three games of the leaders last night by putting on a four-run ninth inning rally to take the series opener, 9 to 5.

Minneapolis muffed a chance to replace Indianapolis in third place by losing 4 to 3 to Kansas City. The Blues won with two runs in the seventh after the Millers had scored three times in the same inning to lead Manager Donie Bush of the Millers and George, his catcher, were chased for disputing decisions.

The Toledo Mud Hens cracked out 13 hits and profited by five Indianapolis errors to win, 9 to 1. It was six in a row for the rejuvenated Hens.

At Louisville the Columbus Red Birds scored six times in the last three innings to beat the tailenders, 8 to 4. Max Macon pitched for the Birds, singled three times and drove in two runs.

*Postponed game.

The Epworth Bishops moved into and spotted first place in Sunday school league No. 2 last night as a result of its 5 to 1 victory over the Christians and Wesley's 2 to 1 victory over Salem.

The Calvary-United Brethren game at Garfield park was postponed because of wet grounds and the seventh entry in the loop, St. Mary, was idle.

Behind the one-hit pitching of Primmer, the Bishops slammed out 10 bingles and were helped to the five runs by seven Christian errors. Oddly enough it was the opposing hurler, Gilmore, who marred Primmer's attempt for a no-hit game by registering a hit in the third inning.

W. Walters and Millsor opposed each other in the Salem-Wesley conflict at Lincoln park. The 2 to 1 defeat cost Salem the possibility of remaining in a tie for first place with the Bishops while Wesley team moved into a deadlock for second place by virtue of the victory. Salem scored its lone run in the fourth frame as a result of Millsor's bingle and led until the sixth inning when Wesley knotted the count. A home-run by P. Barkley, Wesley leftfielder gave the victorious squad its one-run lead in the final inning.

Marion softball commissioners today announced that benefit softball games will be continued during the remainder of the season to finance softball activities. The benefit games will be played as twilight contests on each Monday and Thursday at Lincoln park. A 10-cent admission charge will be assessed those who attend and the receipts will be used to finance softball activities.

Tomorrow night's featured game will match the Fairfield Engineering Co.'s squad and the Keystone Campers both entries in the City commercial league.

Last night's scores by innings follow:

Christian ..... 001 000 0—1 7 2
Epworth Bishops 022 010 *—5 10 0
Gilmore and Owens; Primmer and Seiler.

Wesley ..... 000 001 1—2 5 2
Salem ..... 000 100 0—1 2 0

COLUMBUS COLORED SQUAD, SHOVEL TEAM PLAY HERE SUNDAY

Capital City Monarchs To Furnish Opposition in Diggers' Ninth Game.

The Capital City Monarchs, a semi-pro colored team from Columbus, will furnish the opposition for the Marion Steam Shovel baseball team, in the ninth game of the season, to be played at Indian park Sunday at 2:30 o'clock. The invading team includes a group several former members of the Negro Southern league and former Columbus High stars according to a communication received from Bob Jones, manager of the Monarch squad.

The Diggers, managed by Dave Snoup, will be out to garner their seventh victory of the season in games thus far they have turned back the Columbus Red Sox, Fontaine, Faber Packers of Columbus, Donahue & Hunkle of Springfield, Johnstown and Craven Drug club of Columbus. The two defeats were at the hands of the Lamb Glass Co., squad of Mt. Vernon in the season's opener and to the Johnstown squad, Decoration day. Marion, however, avenged the 2 to 1 loss at the hands of Johnstown, when the team succeeded in downing the same squad 11 to 6, in a later contest.

Weiss Hurls Three-Hit Game as Dairymen Get First Defeat of Year.

In one of the most spectacular softball games this season, the K. of P. entry in the All Star night league handed the Moores & Ross aggregation its first defeat of the season by a 4 to 2 score, at Lincoln park last night. The K. of P. club revamped under the direction of Manager Carroll Davidson, surprised its opponents by scoring early in the game and staying out in front except for a brief period when the Moores & Ross team knotted the count in the third inning.

Eggleston, K. of P.'s new third-sacker banged out a home run in the fifth inning and scored Merchant ahead of him, to account for the tying and winning runs. The hit far out in left field was judged by spectators to be one of the longest softball drives ever clouted at Lincoln park. Amick, hurling for the victorious team, allowed the hard-slugging Moores & Ross batters but six scattered hits and pitched the entire game.

Cozy Weiss handled the hurling assignment for the defeated team and turned in a excellent mound performance by permitting only three hits. Tonight's scheduled All Star game at Lincoln park will match the Marion Steam Shovel and Elks teams. The M. S. S. has a .500 average, winning two of four games, while its opponents have won one of three contests. The score by innings follows:

Moores & Ross ..... 002 000 0—2 6 2
K. of P. ..... 101 020 x—4 8 4
Weiss and K. Somerlot, Harbin; Amick and Wolfe.

SOFTBALL GAMES TONIGHT

NIGHT LEAGUE—8:00 O'CLOCK
M. S. S. vs. Elks at Lincoln park.

MORRAL TEAM LOSES

The Morral Independent baseball team traveled to Broadway, Sunday, and suffered a 20 to 3 defeat. The score by innings follows:

Morral ..... 000 010 020— 3 8 16
Broadway .... 360 040 01*—20 10 2
McIntire, Butcher and Koontz. Thomas and Brown.

Allen Viegel, a senior at Tuscarawas high school, near New Philadelphia, has pitched nine no-hit games during his scholastic baseball career. The youngster, who is six feet tall and weighs 185 pounds, has had offers from the Cleveland Indians and the Cincinnati Reds.

INCREASING DROUTH BOOMS GRAIN PRICES

Large Area in Canada Stricken by Lack of Rain and Heat Wave

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO July 1—Grain prices whirled skyward today especially as trading neared an end in a general stampede to buy

A large part of Canada's wheat area was reported as threatening to duplicate the extraordinary drouth that has largely wrecked domestic crops in states south of the international border At Minneapolis wheat skyrocketed 4¾ cents a bushel and in Chicago wheat quotations soared around 3¼ cents with corn and oats reaching new top price records for the season

Wheat in Chicago closed flurried 3 cents to 3¼ cents above yesterday's finish July 95¼@⅞ Sept 96⅛@⅞ corn 1⅞@2 advanced Sept 67⅛@⅞ oats 1½@1⅝ up and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents

CHOICE ISSUES STAGE UPTURN

Steel Shares Advance Slightly as Labor Situation Seems More Hopeful

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK July 1—The stock market showed evidence of rather severe selection today but a number of issues were pushed up fractions to around 3 points

A little new buying was taken of the labor situation as U. S. Steel Bethlehem and Midland Steel preferreds came back fractionally

Preference shares of Standard Gas Electric Power & Light and American Power & Light displayed further strength on prospects of expanding earnings Consolidated Edison rallied a point

Westinghouse was a late last mover on the upside Others ahead included Underwood Elliott Fisher Associated Dry Goods International Paper Preferred General Electric General Motors Chrysler Pennsylvania and Chesapeake & Ohio Associated Dry Goods preferred was up about 4

American Telephone was heavy and Pacific Telephone fell 5 points on a few transfers Arrivals of as much as 2 were J. I. Case Deere International Harvester Oliver Farms Timken Roller Bearing Mack Douglas Aircraft Bendix and Hershey

Bonds were narrow The French franc eased but other foreign currencies were higher in terms of the dollar Wheat exhibited strength and cotton improved

Notwithstanding all the worries brokerage circle were cheered by the survey of Iron Age which pointed out the achievements of the steel industry during the first six months of 1936 and said that the full year seems certain to be the best since 1930

Holders of utility shares noted with satisfaction that electric power production for the week ended June 27 registered another new high

At the beginning of foreign exchange transactions the French franc was 06¾ of a cent easier at 6.63 cents and sterling was off ⅛ of a cent at $5.01⅜
